REPORT OF PEMBROKE FIRE DEPARTMENT

The 1939 report of the Fire Department is herewith submitted.

The need of a new 500 gallon pumping engine purchased from one of the three leading makers cannot be too strongly emphasized. The present four cylinder White pumper has out-lived its reliable usefulness. However with some expense this could be used as a second piece of apparatus to assist a new pump and to help protect property in the out-lying districts. Pembroke is too large a town to cover with one pumping engine. A call to Pembroke Street or Buck Street leaves the village without protection. We are also handicapped for the transportation of equipment for grass and forest fires for which this old pump could be used.

The cost of a modern 500 gallon pumper is approximately $7500 equipped with a 1000 feet of double jacket hose of which this town is sadly in need. Owing to the fact that the notes on the Fire Station have been paid off, the borrowing of $7500 for a period of five years would not saddle the town with unnecessary expense.

An unfortunate accident happened to the ladder truck and the men thereon. However satisfactory settlement is in the making. This is a necessary piece of apparatus for ladders, accessories and flood lighting equipment as any recognized authority will tell you. Thru the hearty cooperation of Chief French of the Manchester Fire Department with the present Department this Town was able to borrow a ladder truck free of charge exceedingly well equipped until the damaged truck is reconditioned.

It is my opinion this town should have a permanent and recognized fireman live at the Station, be responsible for the equipment, the upkeep of the alarm circuit and to act as janitor.

Fire hazards are still with us, due to blown down timber, the installation of a large number of oil burners and to the indifference of property owners to have chimneys cleaned.

An increase is noted in the Department expense due partially to added labor on forest and other fires, the upkeep of the equipment, the alarm circuit, insurance and the number of calls.

GEORGE CHICKERING,

Audited February 26, 1940.

AUDITORS' REPORT

We have examined the accounts of the Selectmen, Treasurer, Town Clerk, Tax Collector, Library Trustees, Trustees of Trust Funds, Custodians of Cemeteries, and Water Commission and find same correctly cast and properly vouched, and balances on hand, as recorded, in the bank in all cases.

We recommend that, in view of the increase in the duties of the Town Officer, and to enable them to keep more complete records, some steps be taken toward the installation of a simpler and more modern system of accounting.

DOMESTIC ARTS REPORT

Year Ending June 30, 1939

To Mr. George H. Harmon, Superintendent of Schools:

Our aims in this course in domestic science have been to teach the fundamental processes involved in cooking and sewing, the acquisition of some skill by the pupils in this work, and the creation of interest so that there may be a carry-over into later life.

During the first few weeks of school we studied the methods of canning, pickling, and the making of jams and jellies. The canned goods were later exhibited and then used by the girls at home and in the meals that were prepared and served at school.

As candy is often given for gifts, our work at Christmas time was centered around the making of candy. We made several kinds of candy and pop corn balls which were sold at a Christmas tea, which was served to the mothers and friends of the pupils.

Later, we studied the preparation and serving of breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners. Foods suitable for these meals were prepared and experience in actual meal service was gained by serving meals to the members of the faculty, the School Board, and the Superintendent of Schools.

This year, the boys were given an opportunity to participate in the cooking classes. Foods were prepared that could be served on a camping trip. Considerable interest was shown in this course as evidenced by the fact that several of the boys went on hikes, taking with them provisions for the preparation of foods that they had learned to make in class.

In our sewing classes, we made costumes for the play, "The Princess Who Wouldn't Dance" and the operetta, "The Maid and the Golden Slipper." The remainder of the time, the girls spent in making clothing for themselves. Some of the garments made were underwear, simple cotton dresses, house-coats, smocks, slacks, and sport jackets. At the end of the year, we had a style show so that the other pupils, parents, and friends could see the type of work done in this course.

REPORT OF HEADMASTER OF PEMBROKE ACADEMY

To Mr. George H. Harmon, Superintendent of Schools
Raymond, New Hampshire
Sir.

Following is my second report to you, although this is my third year as headmaster of Pembroke Academy.

Teaching Staff and Enrollment

The opening of school Wednesday, September 6, found eight teachers, and one hundred eighty-nine pupils here at the Academy. This was an increase of seven pupils over the enrollment of the previous year. Since the opening day one new pupil has been added to the total enrollment making it one hundred ninety. All of the teachers returned this year, but Mrs. Harrison left at the Thanksgiving recess to join her husband in his new position as Y.M.C.A. Director of young men's work in Montclair, New Jersey. She was succeeded by Miss A. Louise Geer of Manchester, N. H.

The senior class, one of the largest in the history of the school, numbered thirty-five at the opening of school and now has been reduced to thirty-three. The distribution of pupils by age and grade follows.

EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Student Activities

Our Student Activities Association which I mentioned in detail in my last years report has functioned well during the present year. The students are interested and active in the organization of this work and are learning to accept the responsibilities involved. Many social contacts are thus made not only with their own schoolmates but also with pupils from other schools. This has been especially true the past year through the exchange of our school newspaper and magazine with nearly fifty other schools in this and neighboring states.

Prize Speaking and Dramatics

At present writing the first of our Austin Prize Speaking contests—the memory contest—has occurred. On February 7, 1940 the auditorium was well filled with an appreciative audience who listened to the twelve finalists in this contest. The winners were, first prize Betty Ann Fowler, second prize Betty Ann Douillette, third prize Stella Gagne. The Essays in the original contest have already been judged and these pupils are practicing now with Mrs. Elizabeth Morrill our elocution teacher. In addition to these two contests Mrs. Morrill is going to help the seniors with their play which will be given sometime in May.

Music

Our program in music here at the Academy is in charge of Mr. Paul Doe. The operetta "In an Old Kentucky Garden" was given by the combined chorus and Glee Clubs, last spring to a large and enthusiastic audience. This performance was of a high standard and took the combined effort of pupils, teachers, and special coaches to make it a success. This is the kind of work we should do more of. The school chorus sang at graduation and some of the members took part in the baccalaureate service. This winter Mr. Doe's mixed A Capella Chorus sang two numbers at the Prize Speaking Contest. Because of the increased enrollment Mr. Doe has had to take on a heavier teaching load, as a result of which I feel I should repeat my recommendation of last year, namely, that the music teacher at the Grammar School be approved as the teacher at the Academy also.

Administration

The various courses in our program of studies have been arranged with special attention to numbers, individual differences, and local customs. For example, in making up our divisions of French I we have tried to put in one class those pupils who have had more experience in speaking and reading French in their homes and early school days. Homogeneous grouping has not always been possible although I believe it is most advisable.

New equipment for this year includes a South Bend metal work lathe for the shop, and the following for the commercial department:—three typewriters, an adding machine, a teacher's desk, and a four draw filing cabinet. Boys in our own shop have made typewriting tables, book cases, tables for our sewing machines, and many other useful articles of furniture.

We have continued our testing programs in English and French, and some of the teachers have spent a great deal of individual time and effort in developing excellent units in their different courses. We aim to reteach and retest the fundamentals of spelling, arithmetic, reading, and writing.

Good reports of our students' progress have come from various colleges, business and training schools, and from those engaged in business and allied occupations. We have received three reports from our state high school agent, and each one has brought commendations along with other criticisms on which we are working. In this connection I want to point with considerable pride to the tardiness item in the statistical report on another page. Tardinesses have dropped appreciably over a three year period, but this year's record surpasses all others. To date, after twenty-three weeks have passed the total number of tardinesses for one hundred-ninety pupils is only twenty-three. This means a record for the number of tardinesses per pupil of only .13. Our record last year at this time was .49.

Miss Edith Warren was chosen recently by her classmates and by the faculty to represent Pembroke Academy in the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Contest.

Athletics

Pembroke Academy entered teams in the Central New Hampshire Valley Basketball League again this year, the boys had a very successful season losing only one game of the fourteen played. They were invited to take part in the State tournament at New Hampshire University, where they were defeated by Lincoln High School in the first round.

Due to illness Miss Cournoyer was forced to give up her coaching and Mr Peterson has had charge of the girls basketball during the season. Miss Newman acted as chaperone for the girls on the basketball trips. We are indebted also to Mrs. Lewis Cass for chaperoning the girls on several trips. The girls standing was eight won, five lost and one tie game. Following the all star game with Henniker on March one, the season will close with a banquet to the players here at the Academy. Early in December it was discovered that the Gym floor, built only three years ago, was giving away. It was found necessary to make extensive repairs which meant playing some of our games away from home.

In addition to leading the league in basketball last year the boys also won the league championship in baseball. Intra mural games in volley ball will be started as soon as the basketball season is over.

Conclusion

There are a few plans and projects that stand out more prominently in the scheme of things for another year. One of these is health ! A regular program of health instruction and examinations with follow-up remedial work should be inaugurated, and an attempt made to raise money to help defray the cost of remedying some of the more malignant defects of teeth, eyes, etc. I can think of two pupils who have been absent at times during the past two years on account of ear trouble.

The per pupil cost of instruction at the Academy is probably between eighty five and ninety dollars. Two years ago one of the approved public academies had a rate lower than this. This year the maximum rate of tuition for which any district is liable legally is $79.02.

Another vexing problem is the temporary basketball backboard at the stage end of the auditorium. It limits the use of the stage for use in music, dramatics, prize speaking and in many other ways. I would like to recommend that an adjustable backboard be made available,—one which can be swung up to the ceiling be means of a winch and in a few minutes.

The school needs a projection machine for use in the science courses, and some day should own its own moving picture machine. These would aid appreciably our visual education program.

In conclusion I want to thank the teachers for their faithful and loyal work throughout trying experiences, and to thank you and the Trustees for your interest and cooperation in our common problems.

Respectfully yours,

JARVIS T. BEAL II

Headmaster

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Pembroke:

In this, my sixth annual report, your attention is called not only to the customary activities of the schools but also to new obligations and responsibilities which changing conditions are placing upon an efficient school system.

Organization and Instruction

Since my last annual report several changes have been made in the staff of teachers including the addition of a music supervisor.

Following the resignation of Miss Hazel L. Foss in February, 1939, Mr. Orlando S. Ward of Monroe, New Hampshire, completed the year as substitute teacher in the seventh grade at Suncook.

This mid-year Mr. Robert L. Hill, principal of the Suncook School, was granted leave of absence to complete at Keene Teachers College courses required for the bachelor's degree. Mr. Ward, who is now serving as substitute principal and teacher of Grade Eight, is a graduate of Plymouth Teachers College where he has also attended recent summer sessions. Previous to Plymouth he completed one year at New Hampshire University. His teaching experience covers three years in a rural school in Littleton and ten years in the junior high school of Alton.

At the opening of schools in September Miss Anna M. Gobis was transferred from Pembroke Street to the fifth and sixth grade room at Suncook to replace Miss Madelaine Wilson who was appointed teacher of the seventh grade and physical education instructor for girls.

Miss Anne H. Wojnilowicz of Manchester succeeded Miss Gobis at Pembroke Street. Miss Wojnilowicz was graduated in 1939 from the three-year elementary course at Plymouth Teachers College where she had an excellent record both in professional study and practice teaching.

In November, 1939, Mrs. Doris S. Buswell of Andover, New Hampshire, was elected teacher of Music in all grades of the Suncook and Pembroke Street schools. Mrs. Buswell graduated from the Boston Conservatory of Music in 1922 and from professional courses at Keene Teachers College in 1923. She brings to her work the experience of several years as teacher of music in Southbridge, Massachusetts, Rochester, New York, and for the last six years in several New Hampshire schools.

Altho supervised music instruction is given only one day a week, definite progress is being made toward the four objectives. First, that from singing experiences the children shall derive satisfaction and pleasure; second, that pupils shall come to know and appreciate beautiful songs and compositions; third, that each individual shall acquire an increasing amount of skill in singing; and fourth, that the pupils shall learn to use singing as a medium of self-expression.

It is regretted that the per pupil cost of instruction in a school of less than twenty pupils renders it impracticable to provide special music instruction in all of the one-room schools of Pembroke.

Over sixty copies of "America Sings" and the "Music Hour Course" have been added to the instructional materials in music. Other instructional materials recently added include "Number Stories" in grades one and two, "Modern School Mathematics" in grades seven and eight, and the most recent science and nature readers from the "Scientific Living Series" for supplementary reading and instruction in each of the first four grades in which the variety of reading material has been limited.

In the Metropolitan Achievement Tests, given annually since 1934 to all fifth grade pupils, the Pembroke schools attained this year the highest rating in the Union. Averages equaled or exceeded the standard scores in reading, arithmetic, English, literature, history, and geography. The average in spelling fell slightly below the standard score.

I wish to commend to your attention the report submitted by your domestic arts teacher. Timely and practical projects have received emphasis. The results achieved reflect a fine spirit of understanding and co-operation between the teacher and pupils.

It is a pleasure to present to your board and to the citizens of Pembroke the second annual report, submitted by Headmaster Jarvis T. Beal of Pembroke Academy. The personal contacts between students and faculty in both curricula and extra-curricula activities, made possible by a secondary school of this type, are most valuable in the administration of an effective guidance program.

Buildings and Equipment

An increasing interest is shown by your janitors in the care of buildings and in prompt attention to those minor repairs so essential to economy. In the Suncook building the beaver board partition between the manual training shop and the boys' basement has been replaced by a wooden partition and the entrance to the shop enlarged. A thirty-five foot flagpole has been erected on the grounds in front of the building. This pole is of wrought iron pipe with welded joints and is fixed in a cement foundation.

One of the most needed improvements, delayed until recently by the lack of electric service, is the installation of lights in the Borough and North Pembroke Schools. This service also extends to these one-room schools the advantages of visual education through the use of motion pictures. The first film, shown in these schools, portrayed the life of Abraham Lincoln. Also available are the educational broadcasts of school music, science, travel, literature, and current events. Through funds, raised by the teacher and pupils, the North Pembroke School has already provided its own radio.

The toilet facilities of the Borough and Buck Street schools are of the outhouse type now rarely found even among the one-room schools of our state. If these schools are to be continued, the toilets should be relocated and improved.

The heat control system at Pembroke Street has been repaired and adjusted. Both the classroom and coatroom are now adequately heated.

Special Activities

The hot lunch service, maintained at the Borough School through the cooperation of the teacher and parents, is one of the most valuable health activities in which a community can participate. Through Mr. Fraser, state director of surplus commodities, fresh and canned fruit and cereal have been supplied to supplement the local donations for free lunches.

The reports of your school nurse and of other school nurses in the state show that the health conditions of the children are definitely better where, (1) classrooms are evenly heated and adequately ventilated, (2) regular physical training is given the boys and girls of the upper grades, (3) all pupils participate in out-of-door activities during noon and recess periods, and (4) hot lunches are provided for all pupils who remain during the noon hour.

At the dental clinic, sponsored last May by the local Red Cross and other agencies, and conducted by Dr. Harrison Baldwin of Manchester, ninety-six pupils were treated in Pembroke. A total of 121 school children received dental care during the year.

In the annual spelling contest, held in Hooksett last June, Pembroke was represented by George E. Gordon, Jr. from grade IV of the Suncook School, and by Vera Spaulding from grade VI and Margaret Saturley from grade VIII of the North Pembroke School. The team score was 288 out of a possible 300.

It has been increasingly difficult to procure for the Suncook Nursery School teachers who meet the professional requirements in Education. Miss Una G. Dearborn, head teacher, withdrew to accept in September, 1939, a graded school position in Milan. The assistant teacher, Miss Emily L. Rodawig, a graduate of the Lesley Kindergarten Training School was advanced to the place of head teacher, and Miss H. Adeline Browne, a graduate of the three-year elementary course at Keene, was chosen assistant. Thus with the exception of a brief vacation in August and a recess of all nursery school projects during January, 1940 the Suncook Nursery School has continued to serve a full quota of children between two and five years of age. To the mothers and friends of the nursery school children and to the girls of the N.Y.A. classes we are indebted for labor contributed in making 26 sets each of towels, bibs, wash cloths, and large slip-on covers for the sleeping cots. Although the local share of maintenance cost has been increased, the district's appropriation will insure the continuance of the School until March, 1940.

During the past year more than thirty women have attended the adult classes in sewing, weaving and cooking. In the summer vacation their instructor, Miss Isabelle Barnett, completed special courses in adult education work at Keene Teachers College. Classes were again opened in October. These meet at Suncook Grammar School on Monday evenings and Wednesday mornings. Cooking classes meet only on Wednesday evenings at the Allenstown Grammar School. Miss Barnett adapts the instruction to the individual's particular problem in sewing or cooking. This makes the work of immediate and practical value to the home of every pupil.

It is evident throughout the country that changing economic and social conditions are emphasizing a demand that practical education for adults be made a permanent part of the public school program.

In Conclusion

Direction and assistance in vocational guidance is now a recognized function in our best high schools and academies. Yet the school life of some children must end with the grammar school or even earlier. To these children and to a few who fail to complete a high school course, the public schools with the assistance of the National Youth Administration and similar agencies face a new responsibility.

Through the assistance of your teachers and the school nurse a personal record of every pupil who graduates from your schools is now made a part of the permanent files in the Superintendent's Office.

For the first time this year we are attempting to follow up those graduates who are not in school and whom we may assist in vocational placement. Today the duty of the community does not end with the presentation of a diploma.

Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE H. HARMON
Superintendent of Schools
